

The Concerto Group and Venueseeeker Launch Periscope Site Visits

The Concerto Group and Venueseeeker have announced the launch of a new site visit for the digital age. On Friday mornings venue managers across the UK will present a series of five-minute site visits, which will be broadcast via Periscope on the Venueseeeker twitter channel (@venueseeeker).

The first Periscope site visit takes place on Thursday 17th September at Liverpool icon the Venue at the Royal Liver Building. Those joining the live stream will see a full tour of the event space. Follow Venueseeeker (@venueseeeker) on twitter for full details on upcoming Periscope site visits at venues across the UK, including Landing 42 at the Leadenhall Building, OXO2 in OXO Tower and the Natural History Museum.

The Periscope app offers a chance to see the world through another's eyes, through live streaming video via Twitter. Following the tour the venue manager will take questions from viewers, which can be submitted by commenting on the Periscope live stream. See more at www.periscope.tv.

Teresa-Anne Dunleavy, Concerto Group CEO said: "Our new Periscope site visits will give event professionals the freedom to explore our venues without even leaving the office, because we all know how busy this industry can be! We can't wait to start showing our followers a brand new space every Friday morning."

THE VENUE AT
THE ROYAL LIVER BUILDING

LIVE VENUE TOUR ON PERISCOPE
17TH SEPTEMBER 2015

 11am BST on @VENUESEEKER

VENUESEEKER

Venueseeeker uses Periscope to live stream tours of its venues