PLASTERERS' HALL TO HOST THE 'AWARDS AWARDS'

Plasterers' Hall is to host the inaugural 'Awards Awards', a celebration of the drive, determination and creative flair required to pull off award ceremonies. The event will recognise the event industry companies which work on awards for all industries and sectors.

There are 18 categories covering all the constituent elements that awards ceremonies need to exhibit including ones for suppliers and venues. The entry deadline is 18th November 2016, the shortlist will be announced in January 2017 and the ceremony itself follows two months later on the afternoon of Friday 10th March.

Concerto Group CEO Sam Gill said: "The grand setting of Plasterers' Hall is a popular choice for prestigious awards ceremonies, so it's a great fit for the first 'Awards Awards'. We're looking forward to celebrating the best of the industry next March."

Rory Ross Russell of the Global Conference Network said: "This spin-off event comes on the back of the over-subscription and demand we see at our other events where often the 'Awards category' is the most hotly contested. We thought it was time that awards professionals had their very own showcase for their talents. We are delighted to welcome so many distinguished awards experts to the judging panel who I can confidently predict are going to have their work cut out to whittle down the field."

Andrew Perry, Managing Director of the Oil and Gas Awards said: "To impress a single client is a matter of patience and adaptability. To impress one's peers is a matter of consistency. Recognition at the Awards Awards is testament to one's determination, strength and professionalism... I salute the Awards Awards team's bravery in producing this dinner."
