London wedding caterers - in pictures

Being lucky enough to live in one of the most culturally impressive cities in the world, it is no wonder that we also have some of the best wedding caterers in London. The most discerning London couples are sure to want to seek out the best of the best to treat their guests (and enjoy the food themselves too!). And to help you with that search, I've pulled together some of the best wedding caterers in London. Full disclosure, this slideshow is stomach-grumble-inducing... you'll be wanting to schedule in tastings asap.

Create Food

Looking for a catering company that will go above and beyond your requests and blow you away with their creativity and execution? Create is the one for you. There's no lack of innovation in this group, which is saying something considering it's been in the industry for more than 30 years.

Mandarin Oriental

Though the Mandarin Oriental may be associated more with its full wedding service on site (and what a gorgeous site it is), many London couples may not realise that you can experience its top-notch catering in the venue of your choice. Renowned for its world-class catering, you can feel like true wedding royalty in any venue with its off-site services.

Caper & Berry

Caper & Berry may not have as many years under its belt (though many would argue that it is still very experienced), but it never fails to match and exceed both the couple and guests' expectations. Known for its exceptionally warm and personable service, and its ability to impress any group, whether it's for 20 or 600 guests, Caper & Berry is a wedding favorite among couples and guests alike.
